

963 Robert Edwin Henery, Lord Nelson Hotel, Philip, and Hunter;
 914 George O'Brien, Leona Tree, Phillips street
 915 John T. Solomon, Hards and Jockey, Hunter and O'Connell
 916 William George George, Melbourne Hotel, King street
 917 John J. O'Connell, The Victoria Hotel, Victoria street
 918 James Kelly, nelson, Friendship Hotel, Buhavur street
 919 John J. O'Connell, The Victoria Hotel, Victoria street
 920 Joseph Saunders, Hard and Jockey, Hunter and O'Connell
 921 Mary Natus, Builders' Arms, Liverpool street
 922 Philip H. Hart, Jewell House, Campbell street
 923 Robert M. Roberts, Photos Arms, Campbell street
 924 W. H. Ryan, Be-Com, Campbell street
 925 James Cullen, Fock House, Campbell street
 926 James Cullen, Fock House, Campbell street
 927 Stephen L. Ryan, College Ho., Francis and Charles streets
 928 W. M. Courtney, Wynn Hotel, St. of, William street
 929 Thomas Ryan, Joseph Ryan, William street
 930 Thomas Canavan, Sidney Vesteau's, Burke street
 931 Thomas Canavan, Sidney Vesteau's, Burke street
 932 John H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 933 John H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 934 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 935 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 936 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 937 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 938 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 939 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 940 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 941 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 942 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 943 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 944 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 945 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 946 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 947 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 948 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 949 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 950 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 951 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 952 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 953 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 954 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 955 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 956 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 957 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 958 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 959 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 960 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 961 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 962 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 963 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 964 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 965 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 966 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 967 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 968 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 969 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 970 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 971 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 972 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 973 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 974 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 975 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 976 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 977 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 978 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 979 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 980 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 981 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 982 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 983 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 984 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 985 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 986 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 987 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 988 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 989 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 990 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 991 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 992 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 993 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 994 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 995 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 996 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 997 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 998 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 999 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street
 1000 James H. O'Brien, Fock House, Campbell street

- 212 John Lovett, City Arms, Crown and Stanley streets
- 213 John Lovett, City Arms, Crown and Stanley streets
- 214 Joseph Henry Palmer-street Hotel, Bay and Palmer streets
- 215 J. H. Palmer, Woolloomooloo Royal Hotel, William and Crown streets
- 216 Henry Hennessey, Gent's of Gent, Woolloomooloo-street
- 217 Henry Hennessey, Gent's of Gent, Woolloomooloo-street
- 218 William Bunder, Victoria Inn, Woolloomooloo-street
- 219 Cornelius Russell, Old Fellows Arms, Dowling-street
- 220 William Hill, York Arms, Dowling-street
- 221 Francis Callaghan, Yacht Hotel, Potts-street
- 222 The Pacific, Trading in the World, Barton and Dowling streets
- 223 Charles Taylor, Dowling-street Wharf Hotel, Dowling-street
- 224 John H. Marshall, William and Crown streets
- 225 John Healy, Woolloomooloo Inn, William-street
- 226 William McLean, York Arms, Dowling-street
- 227 William White, White's Club, Mitchell, P. Marks, Alexandria and Sydney streets
- 228 Peter Guerin, Minkoff Hotel, Prince of Wales-street
- 229 George Bedford, B. and S. Hotel, Prince of Wales-street
- 230 Thomas Blake, Hindon Hotel, B. and S. Hotel Road
- 231 Anne Atwell, Pelican Hotel, South Head Road
- 232 George Atwell, Pelican Hotel, South Head Road
- 233 John Ward, Bird in Hand, South Head Road
- 234 Peter Guerin, Crown and Stanley streets
- 235 William John Powell, Drapers' Arms, South Head Road
- 236 Frederick Wm. Williams, Barry Hills Hotel, Crown and Stanley streets
- 237 Henry Warf, Warwick Tavern, Campbell and Kelly streets

[illegible]

326 Roger Post, Fern Inn Hotel, Hotspur-street
327 James Harris, 10, W. Main-street
328 George Proctor, Basket Maker's Arms, Cleveland and Woodstock-street
329 William West, Blenheim, Belfast View Vanity, Chippendale
330 James West, Hillingdon, Cleveland and Woodstock-street
331 John Phillips, 10, W. Main-street
332 John B. Smith, Chippendale Hotel, Chippendale
333 James Vaughan, 12, Green Arm, Bank-street
334 George Howard, 2, W. Main-street
335 Eli Huntington, Bee Hive, Green Arm, 2, Green Arm
336 Robert Eklund, Green Arm, 2, Green Arm
337 Thomas Cooper, Gardeners' Arms, Hotspur-street
338 William McCallum, Lonsdowney Terrace, Bray-street
339 James McCallum, 10, W. Main-street
340 James Chambers, Bedford Inn, Redington-street, Bedford
341 William Whitham, 10, W. Main-street
342 George Steel Clifton, Summer House, Keppin
343 William Henry Smith, Storm King, Pottery-st, Chippendale
344 John O'Hara, 10, W. Main-street
345 Thomas Newton, Waterloo Retreat, Hotspur-street
346 John Harris, 10, W. Main-street
347 Geo. Walker, 10, W. Main-street
348 Harriett Clark, 10, W. Main-street
349 William Henry, 10, W. Main-street
350 William Henry, 10, W. Main-street
351 William Henry, 10, W. Main-street
352 Henry Henry, 10, W. Main-street
353 Thomas Clive, 10, W. Main-street
354 Thomas Clive, 10, W. Main-street

[illegible]

381 Christopher Chapman, Union Hill, Newsum Creek
382 S. Carpenter, Haver, of Waterloo, Cook's River, Mt. Peter's
383 John Hobbs, Ball's Bluff, Newsum Creek
384 Thomas Brennan, Union Hill, Cook's River
385 William Martin, Pines, Newsum Creek
386 Joseph Blackstone, Newsum Creek
387 Stephen Hovey, Robin Hood and Little J. W., King's River
388 Levi Hester, Bob Forester, Cook's River
389 John Sheehan, G. W. Kent, Danford, Cook's River
390 James F. Henry, Co. Henry, Union Hill, Cook's River
391 Evan Evans, Man of Kent, Cook's River
392 John H. Baber, Myer, Newsum Creek
393 William Beaman, St. Joseph Banks Rd., Italy
394 Thomas Duffell, Galway Hotel, Campden
395 Frederick Clarke, G. W. Kent, Danford, Cook's River
396 Charles James Ballantyn, Golden Tires, Campden
397 John Duffies, Red Lion, Campden
398 George Davison, St. Michael's Church, Cannard w
399 William Cook, Hushamb Inn, Parments Road
400 John Hester, Red Lion, Campden
401 James Nicolson, Red Lion, Campden
402 James Corwell, Victoria
403 George Vidler, Cherry Orchard, Petham
404 Charles Hester, Railroad Stn., Petham
405 James Nibb, Ball's Bluff, Newsum Creek
406 Joseph Corbett, Governor's Office Hotel, Parments-road
407 James Hester, Red Lion, Campden
408 Michael Hardman, Hestemans' Arms, Parments-road

41 John Jones, White Birch in Hards, Farmington, Liverpool-road
 42 John Jones, White Birch in Hards, Farmington, Liverpool-road
 43 Samuel Jones, Wheeler Hill Arms, Farmington-road
 44 John Jones, Wheeler Hill Arms, Farmington-road
 45 John Coffey, Wrenlock Inn, Farmington-road
 46 James Coffey, Union Inn, Farmington-road
 47 Robert Curtis, Farmington Inn, Farmington-road
 48 Frank Francis, Plough Inn, Farmington-road
 49 Edward Chandler, Plough Inn, Farmington-road
 50 James M. Pratt, Angel Inn, Farmington-road
 51 Henry Maline, Cottage of Conterbury, Ashfield
 52 Martin Roberts, Broomfield, Ashfield
 53 Thomas Massey, New Inn, Liverpool-road
 54 John Daley, Friendship Inn, Liverpool-road
 55 Michael Whelan, Inn, Liverpool-road
 56 John Duxley, Black Hute Inn, Liverpool-road
 57 John Rayner, Woodhouse, Liverpool-road
 58 William Corran, Little Harp, Liverpool-road
 59 George Wright, St. Patrick, Shanklin
 60 John Wren, Wren's Arms, New Pleasant, Parish of St. George
 61 James Jones, Sugar Loaf, Canterbury
 62 William George, Canterbury Arms, Canterbury
 63 William Fife, Rising Star, Canterbury
 64 John Wren, Wren's Arms, Liverpool-road
 65 Henry Evans, Terminus Inn, Ashfield
 66 John Wren, Wren's Arms, Ashfield
 67 Thomas Mouch, van Traveller's Home, Ashfield
 68 Irish Nicholas, New Dove Inn, Liverpool-road

[illegible]

12 William Todd, 169 Cooper's Row, Parramatta street
13 Julia Fraser, King-street
14 James Morie, South Head Road
15 William Nunn, Phillip-street
16 John Moore, St. Hill-street
17 Michael Wallace, Market and Castlereagh streets.

The vacancy in the list of foreign members of the Académie des Inscriptions et Belles Lettres of the Institute of France, caused by the death of Dr. Guisford, Dean of Christ Church, was filled up on Friday, the 25th of December, by the election of the Rev. William Cureton, Canon of Westminster, the learned editor of the Corpus Ippocritanicum.—Advertiser.

My last dispatch on shore shorted off and proceeded. The chief reference to it to the effect that he had made no provision for Louis N. Webster, the Governor, was said that, first position, the interpreter had been asked reports were of credence with rated from on other. The part of the result, was general, however, some upon the score have now to it near of my view for peace.

Western Power under considerable exception than ever read and to enforce compelling Russia. Most of views of the these—that n in either the recent attitude of Russia to treaty.

Russia is the commercial Bank. The Government, markets, and smaller ones, has been issuing a forcing specie duties requiring a fund it a trality as to be obliged to register inabilities to the present. Her motives There is a of London, it to shake the England as by Austria, new contracts and for large Parliament on the settles the in question supposed the country. The prospects here, the the State, has been highly satisfied. The British season.

The Corn large fleet of been established Black Sea. price.

The estate of Liverpool liabilities are on Liverpool. The general districts. The accounts last account checked over. The wool of P. C. G. Italian beef, Jenny Lind turned to England was crammed Madame R. two months. The rates are but is sufficient. The accounts

I did not 19th, per opportunity of earlier, by the time of the said time.

If any press wish it, it is more than Kars—Mons. There has and their has had become official come that they were every report, no former per rumsors be. The funds have been a sudden just that by some are confirmed if con elon conver, peace. The Austria is much more important sanction from during the opened. It is telling me, are monetary places; the plaining of in a and fits has, therefore, been pleased, per England, and war, if need be, is in and proper had—very and in France, there has in the market. France, there must be more the rates are, but, with stringent, approval to this, it provided it making the, however, Vienna, I secret.

It is the garbier business of this said in making the garbier as having a oblist attraction, officers, too late, the roads is much defective with one less, much shade of it of it full part fearful that stratuations. On general, K. K. On general, K. K. On general, K. K.

[FROM OUR CITY CORRESPONDENT.]

London, Tuesday, December 11, 1855.

Mr. last despatch went by the Marco Polo, which got on shore shortly after leaving Liverpool, but floated off and proceeded, after having been damaged by the explosion of the boiler, to the coast of Spain. The chief point of interest in that letter had reference to the circulation of a variety of reports to the effect that Russia was anxious for peace, and had made propositions with that view, which the Emperor Louis Napoleon was said to have approved, but which our Government objected to. Subsequently, it was said that Lord Palmerston had received from his first position, and had agreed with the Emperor as to the interpretation of the terms proposed to form the basis of peace or negotiations for the same. These reports were given with such plausibility as to force credence with the multitude, and that sound reasoner, the public, appeared to be singularly confident of the result, and before the return of spring the cry was general that there would be peace. You will, however, remember that I then considerably doubted upon the correctness of the versions so current, and have now to state that time has confirmed the correctness of my views. Russia has not made any propositions for peace.

Western Powers' propositions which have been under consideration, and that is all, with this important exception, that France and England are now more than ever resolved to maintain (without discussion) demands, and to enforce them, and have succeeded in compelling Russia to accede, or submit to accept them in view. Most emphatically it may be said that the views of the English and French Governments are not in the least shaken by the Russian ship of war Albatross in either the Black Sea or the Baltic—not a fortress remain entire on the Sebastopol side—and the power of Russia to again menace Turkey be totally destroyed.

Russia is in a sad state—financially and commercially—the Government and the people. The Commercial Bank of Odessa has stopped specie payment. The Government has been obliged to suspend the issue of paper money, and has still partially succeeded; and her demands are still unsatisfied. The Government has been issuing an immense amount of paper money, and forcing specie from the provinces, and has succeeded in obtaining a sum of £1,000,000 in gold and silver.

Austria is also in a very bad financial plight. She has found it almost impossible to maintain her neutrality as to take an active position, and has been obliged to reduce her army to the same as before, and her inability to maintain it on a war footing. Consequently she is now only anxious for peace, and hence her present exertions to reconcile the belligerents.

There is reason to believe that Russia, for purposes of her own, is backing Austria in her present attempt to shake the firmness of the Western Powers. England and France are making the most energetic and decisive arrangements for the campaign of 1856. The new contracts given by our Government, are numerous and for large quantities of arms and accoutrements.

Parliament is to meet for the despatch of business on the 31st January. This announcement at once settles the insecurity of a rumour that Lord Palmerston purposed dissolving Parliament and appealing to the country.

The prospect of an angry political correspondence between the governments of England and the United States, has been completely dispelled. The explanations given by our Government have been deemed highly satisfactory.

The Baltic trade is considered to be closed for the season. The Corn trade is declining in consequence of a large fleet of 400 sail of grain ships having at length been enabled to cross the bar of the Danube into the Black Sea. Wheat fell 4s. yesterday on last Monday's price.

The estate of Mr. Olive, ship-owner, of Liverpool, will pay 2s. 6d. in the pound. The liabilities amount to £1,080,000. The chief losses fall on Liverpool bondholders.

The general trade of the country, in the manufacturing districts, remains sound, with more cheerfulness. The Australian trade of London is very quiet. The last accounts from Sydney and Melbourne have checked reports.

The O'Connell matter will be generally settled. P. Y. O'Connell, 67s. to 67s. 6d. for the year; Australia, 67s. 6d.

Jonny Lind, now Madame Goldschmidt, has returned to England, and last night appeared at Exeter Hall in the Oratorio of Haydn's Creation. The hall was crammed.

Madame Rachel and suite have netted £21,000, in two months, at New York and Boston.

The money market is easier, although still tight. The rates are from 6 per cent, with a good demand, but in sufficient supply.

The accounts from the United States are better. I did not anticipate having to address you until the 10th, per Marco Polo packet, but as there is an opportunity of furnishing you with a few lines a day earlier, by the Speedy, I readily comply with the hurried and sudden demand for a packet in an "hour's time."

My present communication is briefer than I could wish it, its interest will make up for its brevity. The principal topics treated are three, namely—Peace—Kars—Money.

There has been a daily repetition of peace rumours, and their contradiction—all the reports said to be from undoubted authority. Up to Saturday last the public had become so tired of looking and waiting for some official communication on the subject, that they were becoming disbelievers in the subject.

The funds began to drop, for the simple reason that no reliable report was obtainable. To-day there has been a jump, because a telegraph from Berlin says that by semi-official authority the late peace rumours are confirmed. There is nothing more positive than this. It is one to believe all one hears, the impression conveyed is favourable to negotiations for peace.

The money market is easier, although still tight. The rates are from 6 per cent, with a good demand, but in sufficient supply.

The accounts from the United States are better. I did not anticipate having to address you until the 10th, per Marco Polo packet, but as there is an opportunity of furnishing you with a few lines a day earlier, by the Speedy, I readily comply with the hurried and sudden demand for a packet in an "hour's time."

My present communication is briefer than I could wish it, its interest will make up for its brevity. The principal topics treated are three, namely—Peace—Kars—Money.

There has been a daily repetition of peace rumours, and their contradiction—all the reports said to be from undoubted authority. Up to Saturday last the public had become so tired of looking and waiting for some official communication on the subject, that they were becoming disbelievers in the subject.

The funds began to drop, for the simple reason that no reliable report was obtainable. To-day there has been a jump, because a telegraph from Berlin says that by semi-official authority the late peace rumours are confirmed. There is nothing more positive than this. It is one to believe all one hears, the impression conveyed is favourable to negotiations for peace.

The money market is easier, although still tight. The rates are from 6 per cent, with a good demand, but in sufficient supply.

The accounts from the United States are better. I did not anticipate having to address you until the 10th, per Marco Polo packet, but as there is an opportunity of furnishing you with a few lines a day earlier, by the Speedy, I readily comply with the hurried and sudden demand for a packet in an "hour's time."

My present communication is briefer than I could wish it, its interest will make up for its brevity. The principal topics treated are three, namely—Peace—Kars—Money.

There has been a daily repetition of peace rumours, and their contradiction—all the reports said to be from undoubted authority. Up to Saturday last the public had become so tired of looking and waiting for some official communication on the subject, that they were becoming disbelievers in the subject.

The funds began to drop, for the simple reason that no reliable report was obtainable. To-day there has been a jump, because a telegraph from Berlin says that by semi-official authority the late peace rumours are confirmed. There is nothing more positive than this. It is one to believe all one hears, the impression conveyed is favourable to negotiations for peace.

The money market is easier, although still tight. The rates are from 6 per cent, with a good demand, but in sufficient supply.

The accounts from the United States are better. I did not anticipate having to address you until the 10th, per Marco Polo packet, but as there is an opportunity of furnishing you with a few lines a day earlier, by the Speedy, I readily comply with the hurried and sudden demand for a packet in an "hour's time."

My present communication is briefer than I could wish it, its interest will make up for its brevity. The principal topics treated are three, namely—Peace—Kars—Money.

There has been a daily repetition of peace rumours, and their contradiction—all the reports said to be from undoubted authority. Up to Saturday last the public had become so tired of looking and waiting for some official communication on the subject, that they were becoming disbelievers in the subject.

The funds began to drop, for the simple reason that no reliable report was obtainable. To-day there has been a jump, because a telegraph from Berlin says that by semi-official authority the late peace rumours are confirmed. There is nothing more positive than this. It is one to believe all one hears, the impression conveyed is favourable to negotiations for peace.

The King of Sardinia has returned to his own little kingdom.

Sir Hamilton Seymour has arrived at Vienna.

The Commercial Bank of Odessa has suspended specie payments, and there has been a run on the Bank on others of the principal towns of the Empire. St. Petersburg and Moscow are being strongly fortified.

The diplomatic difficulties between Sardinia and Turkey have been arranged through the mediation of France and England.

An order in council has been issued authorizing the Bank of England to increase its circulation by £1,000,000, being three proportion of the country note circulation issued since 1841, which is provided for in the Bank Charter Act of 1844.

Mr. Bates, the clerk-partner of Sirahan, Paul, and Co., has petitioned for a mitigation of sentence, and it is expected that he will be successful.

Wednesday, December 19.
My last despatch was sent by the Marco Polo, which got on shore shortly after leaving Liverpool, but floated off and proceeded, after having been damaged by the explosion of the boiler, to the coast of Spain.

Western Powers' propositions which have been under consideration, and that is all, with this important exception, that France and England are now more than ever resolved to maintain (without discussion) demands, and to enforce them, and have succeeded in compelling Russia to accede, or submit to accept them in view.

Most emphatically it may be said that the views of the English and French Governments are not in the least shaken by the Russian ship of war Albatross in either the Black Sea or the Baltic—not a fortress remain entire on the Sebastopol side—and the power of Russia to again menace Turkey be totally destroyed.

Russia is in a sad state—financially and commercially—the Government and the people. The Commercial Bank of Odessa has stopped specie payment. The Government has been obliged to suspend the issue of paper money, and has still partially succeeded; and her demands are still unsatisfied.

Austria is also in a very bad financial plight. She has found it almost impossible to maintain her neutrality as to take an active position, and has been obliged to reduce her army to the same as before, and her inability to maintain it on a war footing.

Consequently she is now only anxious for peace, and hence her present exertions to reconcile the belligerents.

There is reason to believe that Russia, for purposes of her own, is backing Austria in her present attempt to shake the firmness of the Western Powers.

England and France are making the most energetic and decisive arrangements for the campaign of 1856. The new contracts given by our Government, are numerous and for large quantities of arms and accoutrements.

Parliament is to meet for the despatch of business on the 31st January. This announcement at once settles the insecurity of a rumour that Lord Palmerston purposed dissolving Parliament and appealing to the country.

The prospect of an angry political correspondence between the governments of England and the United States, has been completely dispelled. The explanations given by our Government have been deemed highly satisfactory.

The Baltic trade is considered to be closed for the season. The Corn trade is declining in consequence of a large fleet of 400 sail of grain ships having at length been enabled to cross the bar of the Danube into the Black Sea.

Wheat fell 4s. yesterday on last Monday's price. The estate of Mr. Olive, ship-owner, of Liverpool, will pay 2s. 6d. in the pound.

The liabilities amount to £1,080,000. The chief losses fall on Liverpool bondholders. The general trade of the country, in the manufacturing districts, remains sound, with more cheerfulness.

The Australian trade of London is very quiet. The last accounts from Sydney and Melbourne have checked reports. The O'Connell matter will be generally settled.

P. Y. O'Connell, 67s. to 67s. 6d. for the year; Australia, 67s. 6d. Jonny Lind, now Madame Goldschmidt, has returned to England, and last night appeared at Exeter Hall in the Oratorio of Haydn's Creation.

The hall was crammed. Madame Rachel and suite have netted £21,000, in two months, at New York and Boston.

The money market is easier, although still tight. The rates are from 6 per cent, with a good demand, but in sufficient supply.

The accounts from the United States are better. I did not anticipate having to address you until the 10th, per Marco Polo packet, but as there is an opportunity of furnishing you with a few lines a day earlier, by the Speedy, I readily comply with the hurried and sudden demand for a packet in an "hour's time."

My present communication is briefer than I could wish it, its interest will make up for its brevity. The principal topics treated are three, namely—Peace—Kars—Money.

There has been a daily repetition of peace rumours, and their contradiction—all the reports said to be from undoubted authority. Up to Saturday last the public had become so tired of looking and waiting for some official communication on the subject, that they were becoming disbelievers in the subject.

The funds began to drop, for the simple reason that no reliable report was obtainable. To-day there has been a jump, because a telegraph from Berlin says that by semi-official authority the late peace rumours are confirmed. There is nothing more positive than this. It is one to believe all one hears, the impression conveyed is favourable to negotiations for peace.

The money market is easier, although still tight. The rates are from 6 per cent, with a good demand, but in sufficient supply.

The accounts from the United States are better. I did not anticipate having to address you until the 10th, per Marco Polo packet, but as there is an opportunity of furnishing you with a few lines a day earlier, by the Speedy, I readily comply with the hurried and sudden demand for a packet in an "hour's time."

My present communication is briefer than I could wish it, its interest will make up for its brevity. The principal topics treated are three, namely—Peace—Kars—Money.

There has been a daily repetition of peace rumours, and their contradiction—all the reports said to be from undoubted authority. Up to Saturday last the public had become so tired of looking and waiting for some official communication on the subject, that they were becoming disbelievers in the subject.

The funds began to drop, for the simple reason that no reliable report was obtainable. To-day there has been a jump, because a telegraph from Berlin says that by semi-official authority the late peace rumours are confirmed. There is nothing more positive than this. It is one to believe all one hears, the impression conveyed is favourable to negotiations for peace.

The money market is easier, although still tight. The rates are from 6 per cent, with a good demand, but in sufficient supply.

The accounts from the United States are better. I did not anticipate having to address you until the 10th, per Marco Polo packet, but as there is an opportunity of furnishing you with a few lines a day earlier, by the Speedy, I readily comply with the hurried and sudden demand for a packet in an "hour's time."

My present communication is briefer than I could wish it, its interest will make up for its brevity. The principal topics treated are three, namely—Peace—Kars—Money.

There has been a daily repetition of peace rumours, and their contradiction—all the reports said to be from undoubted authority. Up to Saturday last the public had become so tired of looking and waiting for some official communication on the subject, that they were becoming disbelievers in the subject.

The funds began to drop, for the simple reason that no reliable report was obtainable. To-day there has been a jump, because a telegraph from Berlin says that by semi-official authority the late peace rumours are confirmed. There is nothing more positive than this. It is one to believe all one hears, the impression conveyed is favourable to negotiations for peace.

The money market is easier, although still tight. The rates are from 6 per cent, with a good demand, but in sufficient supply.

The accounts from the United States are better. I did not anticipate having to address you until the 10th, per Marco Polo packet, but as there is an opportunity of furnishing you with a few lines a day earlier, by the Speedy, I readily comply with the hurried and sudden demand for a packet in an "hour's time."

My present communication is briefer than I could wish it, its interest will make up for its brevity. The principal topics treated are three, namely—Peace—Kars—Money.

There has been a daily repetition of peace rumours, and their contradiction—all the reports said to be from undoubted authority. Up to Saturday last the public had become so tired of looking and waiting for some official communication on the subject, that they were becoming disbelievers in the subject.

The funds began to drop, for the simple reason that no reliable report was obtainable. To-day there has been a jump, because a telegraph from Berlin says that by semi-official authority the late peace rumours are confirmed. There is nothing more positive than this. It is one to believe all one hears, the impression conveyed is favourable to negotiations for peace.

The money market is easier, although still tight. The rates are from 6 per cent, with a good demand, but in sufficient supply.

The accounts from the United States are better. I did not anticipate having to address you until the 10th, per Marco Polo packet, but as there is an opportunity of furnishing you with a few lines a day earlier, by the Speedy, I readily comply with the hurried and sudden demand for a packet in an "hour's time."

My present communication is briefer than I could wish it, its interest will make up for its brevity. The principal topics treated are three, namely—Peace—Kars—Money.

events has preeminently been in favour of the noble cause for which England and France have joined with remarkable unanimity of feeling, sentiment, and action, which promises to produce a lasting impression on the minds of both countries.

The old year terminated with one more effort being made to restore the peace of Europe. The year 1856 opened with but little chance of that effort being successful.

The Austrian proposition, accompanied by France and England, accompanied with a distinct intimation that the present is the last opportunity offered to Russia to negotiate peace, until we definitively settle the question, reached St. Petersburg on the 26th December. A period of twenty-one days is allowed Russia for their consideration. I never had much hope that Russia would accept the terms proposed as the basis for peace. Her pride has not yet been humbled. The injury inflicted on the confidence of the world, severe though it has been in some directions, to hope for any cessation of hostilities with free will, and the news received to-day appears to me to settle all doubt upon the subject.

Russia will profess, in the spirit, to accept the proposals for peace, but will reject them in the letter. The fact is simply this—

Count Nesselrode has addressed a circular note to the representatives of Russia at the Chief Foreign Courts, dated St. Petersburg, December 22nd, wherein it is stated that the Emperor accepts the Third Point in the following sense:—

"That the principle of the right of Turkey to close the Straits be maintained. That no warlike flag be admitted in the Black Sea save those of the naval forces of Russia and Turkey, that the amount of naval force so to be maintained in the Black Sea be fixed by a direct negotiation between Russia and Turkey without any ostensible participation in the other powers."

A more intellingible interpretation cannot be conceived. England and France are to be shut out and have no voice in the arrangement of the differences between Russia and Turkey.

An armistice, however, may be effected, and will be carried into force by the Western Powers, and unless the Czar alters his views after a perusal of the terms proposed by Austria, there is at once—there certainly is—no chance of all attempts to reconcile conflicting interests.

We shall doubtless have some intimation to-morrow of the sense entertained by our Government of these views of Russia.

There is a strong effort being made by all the minor German States to influence the Czar to accept the proposition for peace.

Sweden is boldly and manfully preparing for the coming campaign, and the armaments and military establishments are busily employed in the preparation of every kind of warlike material. Its surplus revenue, amounting to several millions of roubles, will be devoted to the purchase of arms and accoutrements, in order to place them on an efficient war footing.

Russia is making grand preparations for the spring, and France and England are pushing forth every nerve to bring a large army to the assistance of Austria. A report that the Emperor of Russia is about to emancipate the serfs has been in circulation for some weeks past.

The King of Denmark is said to have consented to allow his fleet to be at the disposal of the English fleet.

I believe that a plan of operations against Cronstadt has been decided upon by France and England, and it will be attacked from the shore by floating mortar batteries.

The Morning Post, the Government organ, had a leader yesterday which spoke out very plainly, and was to the effect that the war continue the Western Powers would no longer be trifled with by Russia; that she should and would be made to cease her neutrality to take one side or the other. This article caused some stir from the great prominence given to it.

It is now denied that Austria, in making the present proposition to Russia for peace, has accomplished it. It is an ulterior move, and will place the Russian in a position of great embarrassment, and will rupture of diplomatic relations between the two countries will follow.

France and England are, I have reason to believe, making strong exertions to bring a defensive alliance with Spain, and the latter engaged not to alienate any part of her territory to Russia. The contracting powers will mutually communicate all propositions coming from Russia.

Prussia has made overtures to the Czar in behalf of peace, and a special ambassador left Berlin last week for St. Petersburg.

The most energetic and extensive preparations are being made for the next campaign, and a vigorous prosecution of the war will recommence with the spring in the event of Russia refusing to receive the overture now made to her.

There is no longer any doubt that the late peace rumours are confirmed. There is nothing more positive than this. It is one to believe all one hears, the impression conveyed is favourable to negotiations for peace.

The money market is easier, although still tight. The rates are from 6 per cent, with a good demand, but in sufficient supply.

The accounts from the United States are better. I did not anticipate having to address you until the 10th, per Marco Polo packet, but as there is an opportunity of furnishing you with a few lines a day earlier, by the Speedy, I readily comply with the hurried and sudden demand for a packet in an "hour's time."

My present communication is briefer than I could wish it, its interest will make up for its brevity. The principal topics treated are three, namely—Peace—Kars—Money.

There has been a daily repetition of peace rumours, and their contradiction—all the reports said to be from undoubted authority. Up to Saturday last the public had become so tired of looking and waiting for some official communication on the subject, that they were becoming disbelievers in the subject.

The funds began to drop, for the simple reason that no reliable report was obtainable. To-day there has been a jump, because a telegraph from Berlin says that by semi-official authority the late peace rumours are confirmed. There is nothing more positive than this. It is one to believe all one hears, the impression conveyed is favourable to negotiations for peace.

The money market is easier, although still tight. The rates are from 6 per cent, with a good demand, but in sufficient supply.

The accounts from the United States are better. I did not anticipate having to address you until the 10th, per Marco Polo packet, but as there is an opportunity of furnishing you with a few lines a day earlier, by the Speedy, I readily comply with the hurried and sudden demand for a packet in an "hour's time."

My present communication is briefer than I could wish it, its interest will make up for its brevity. The principal topics treated are three, namely—Peace—Kars—Money.

There has been a daily repetition of peace rumours, and their contradiction—all the reports said to be from undoubted authority. Up to Saturday last the public had become so tired of looking and waiting for some official communication on the subject, that they were becoming disbelievers in the subject.

The funds began to drop, for the simple reason that no reliable report was obtainable. To-day there has been a jump, because a telegraph from Berlin says that by semi-official authority the late peace rumours are confirmed. There is nothing more positive than this. It is one to believe all one hears, the impression conveyed is favourable to negotiations for peace.

The money market is easier, although still tight. The rates are from 6 per cent, with a good demand, but in sufficient supply.

The accounts from the United States are better. I did not anticipate having to address you until the 10th, per Marco Polo packet, but as there is an opportunity of furnishing you with a few lines a day earlier, by the Speedy, I readily comply with the hurried and sudden demand for a packet in an "hour's time."

My present communication is briefer than I could wish it, its interest will make up for its brevity. The principal topics treated are three, namely—Peace—Kars—Money.

There has been a daily repetition of peace rumours, and their contradiction—all the reports said to be from undoubted authority. Up to Saturday last the public had become so tired of looking and waiting for some official communication on the subject, that they were becoming disbelievers in the subject.

The funds began to drop, for the simple reason that no reliable report was obtainable. To-day there has been a jump, because a telegraph from Berlin says that by semi-official authority the late peace rumours are confirmed. There is nothing more positive than this. It is one to believe all one hears, the impression conveyed is favourable to negotiations for peace.

The money market is easier, although still tight. The rates are from 6 per cent, with a good demand, but in sufficient supply.

The accounts from the United States are better. I did not anticipate having to address you until the 10th, per Marco Polo packet, but as there is an opportunity of furnishing you with a few lines a day earlier, by the Speedy, I readily comply with the hurried and sudden demand for a packet in an "hour's time."

My present communication is briefer than I could wish it, its interest will make up for its brevity. The principal topics treated are three, namely—Peace—Kars—Money.

There has been a daily repetition of peace rumours, and their contradiction—all the reports said to be from undoubted authority. Up to Saturday last the public had become so tired of looking and waiting for some official communication on the subject, that they were becoming disbelievers in the subject.

The funds began to drop, for the simple reason that no reliable report was obtainable. To-day there has been a jump, because a telegraph from Berlin says that by semi-official authority the late peace rumours are confirmed. There is nothing more positive than this. It is one to believe all one hears, the impression conveyed is favourable to negotiations for peace.

The money market is easier, although still tight. The rates are from 6 per cent, with a good demand, but in sufficient supply.

The accounts from the United States are better. I did not anticipate having to address you until the 10th, per Marco Polo packet, but as there is an opportunity of furnishing you with a few lines a day earlier, by the Speedy, I readily comply with the hurried and sudden demand for a packet in an "hour's time."

My present communication is briefer than I could wish it, its interest will make up for its brevity. The principal topics treated are three, namely—Peace—Kars—Money.

There has been a daily repetition of peace rumours, and their contradiction—all the reports said to be from undoubted authority. Up to Saturday last the public had become so tired of looking and waiting for some official communication on the subject, that they were becoming disbelievers in the subject.

THE NOMINATION.

[illegible]

[illegible][illegible]

a.gov.au/nla.news-pac

